

Password Generator

Welcome to the Password Generator GitHub repository! This repository contains the source code, final release with the GUI application, and a working demo video for the Password Generator.

Contents

->Source Code Folder:

This folder contains the original source code files for the Password Generator. If you're interested in exploring or modifying the code, this is the place to look.

->GUI_Password_Generator Folder:

This folder includes the final release of the Password Generator, complete with all the necessary build files and dependencies to run the GUI application. To test the Password Generator, simply download the entire folder and follow the instructions in the next section.

->Password_Generator_Working Video:

Watch the complete working demo of the Password Generator in a single video. This video provides an overview of the application's features and functionality.

Instructions for Running the GUI Application

Follow these steps to run the Password Generator GUI application:

->Download:

Download the entire GUI_Password_Generator folder to your local machine.

->Run the Application:

Execute the application by following the instructions provided in the README file within the GUI_Password_Generator folder.

->Generate Passwords:

Use the Password Generator to create strong and secure passwords for your needs.

Feedback and Contributions

We welcome feedback and contributions to improve the Password Generator. If you encounter any issues, have suggestions, or would like to contribute, please open an issue or create a pull request.

Thank you for using the Password Generator! We hope it helps you create and manage secure passwords effortlessly.

Happy Generating!